

DEVELOPERS LAY PLANS FOR MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR CONSTRUCTION IN SPRING VALLEY

RESOLUTION ADOPTED: W. H. "Pat" Fitzpatrick, president of the Community Council, Spring Valley, looks over a copy of the resolution that the Council sent to the County Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission concerning the Sweetwater Ranch project. Fitzpatrick, also serves the community as the U.S. Postmaster.

By JACK POLLARD

County planners have agreed to rezone about 50 acres of land for a large development that is being planned south of Casa de Oro. Developers Bob Rundell and Arnold Dahl received approval to rezone 100 acres of land from half acre and 10,000 square foot minimum lot sizes to R-1.8 which permits 7,500 square foot lots.

In addition, 60 acres lying to the west of Sweetwater Springs blvd., primarily on the north side of Austin rd. had been given tentative approval that would include R-3 and R-4 sections as well as commercial sections.

The development which could embrace 1,001 acres by the time that completion is reached would come at a cost of $140 million to the investors, Sweetwater Springs Co., Inc.

Dahl, president of the company, said that he hopes construction will get underway within six to eight months on the development. The first phase of the plan would see 220 acres of land changing face.

Room for 1,800 families would be made in the initial construction program. Garden Apartments, town houses as well as a shopping center are in line with plans. Total population in the overall plans would see 21,000 new residents in Spring Valley.

Hansen's Lakes, part of the property to be developed would be the central focal point in the program. The two lakes give off a flow of 100,000 gallons of water per day.

Dahl said that the two lakes were originally created by damming the stream which flows into the Sweetwater Lake.

HEALTH SPA

His plans would see a health resort type spa, with complementary motels, being constructed around the two small lakes.

The lakes would also be changed to some degree. A water fall would be created between them. The water fall would be roughly 40 feet high creating a scenic sight.

The size of the lakes would physically be enlarged. They currently take up around five acres of land. At the time of completion, more than 20 acres would be covered by water.

Restaurants, deluxe condominium apartments, medical offices and a convalescent hospital will also be included in the program.

In the first program stage, some $40 million would be spent for homes and the shopping center.

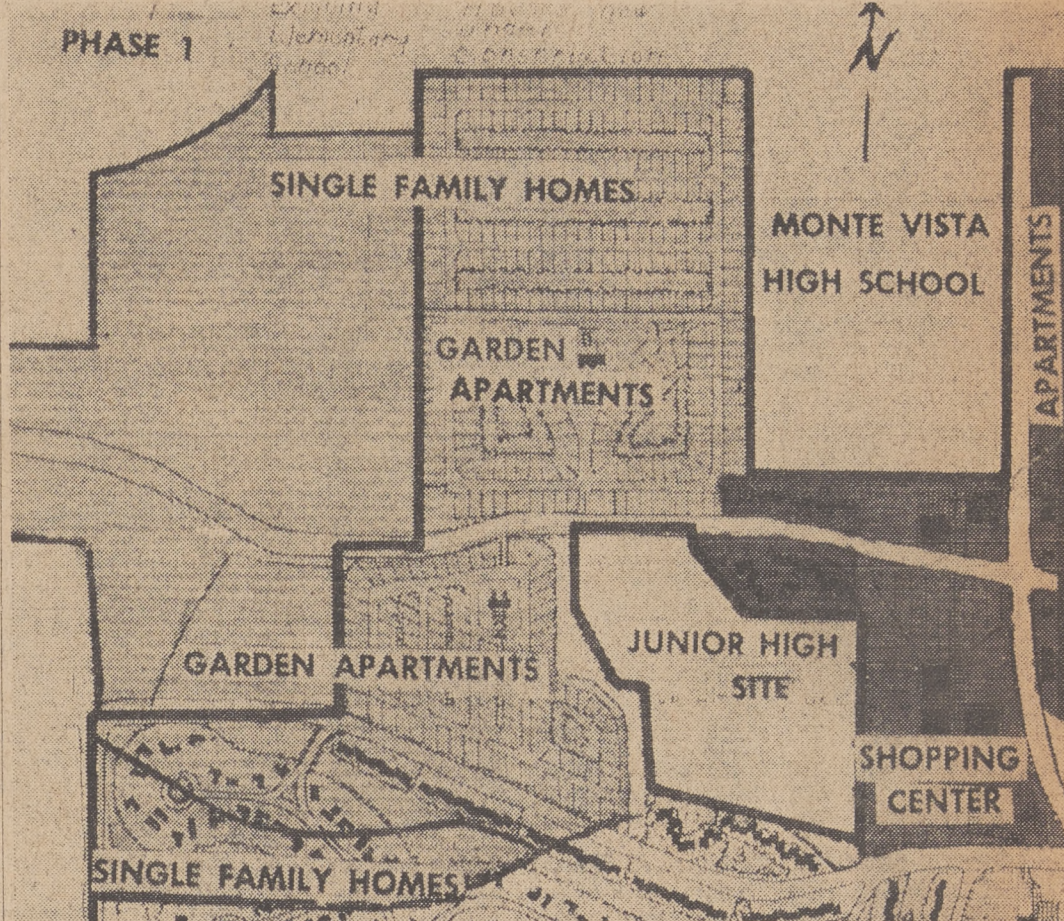

SHOPPING CENTER

The shopping center would have some 150,000 square feet of retail stores to serve the new families. Another 30 acres have been designated for an industrial park development at a later time as part of the master plan.

The park will be adjacent to an existing industrial area. The area that will be developed has all utilities, including sewer and water lines running through the property at the current time.

Dahl said that a major factor for selecting the Sweet-

PHASE 1: This is how plans for Phase 1 of the Sweetwater Springs development look. Single family homes in the price range of $25,000 will dot the outer rim of the development while garden apartments will be found on the next inner ring. Adjacent to the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District's junior high school will be a shopping center covering some 150,000 square feet of land. Garden apartment lots are zoned for R-3-4 while others are R-3.

How's That Again?

Lt. Colonel and Mrs. William Anders, he being the intrepid, moon-circling astronaut, were guests of honor Monday at a Chamber of Commerce-sponsored luncheon at the Bronze Room in La Mesa.

"Both of us wish NASA would move its facilities to Fletcher Hills so we could settle down and raise our kids in La Mesa, he told an overflow crowd.

He explained that he had been moved about the country by the Air Force and NASA often. Nearly every time they moved, his wife Valerie, a Lemon Grove girl, became pregnant, he said.

"We've got five fine children, already," he said. "Four boys and two girls!"

With that kind of arithmetic, how did he make it round the moon?

Politics in Law Enforcement

When Capt. Quentin G. Cash spoke to the Military Order of the World Wars Saturday, a frame of his reference brought back some memories that have long been a source of editorial irritation. The MOWWW is a society of men who served the United States as officers during wartime.

Captain Cash, officer in charge of the San Diego County Sheriff's Department's East County operations, was discussing the pressures of society that are exerted all of the time against those who wear the star of law and order.

He had shown that there is a vital need for a return to sanity amongst those whose actions, voices and attitudes affect effective police work.

He listed some of the pressures which form substantial obstacles over which law enforcement agents must hurdle in order to protect the people he is being paid to protect. Many of these pressures, he said, comes from vocal minorities and misinformed citizens. In these, the regard for the rights of the accused are over-emphasized while the regard for the rights of the victim of the crime, and the community, becomes less and less.

These utterances provide a platform for the liberalization of the public attitude toward wrongdoers. When a national figure says it, long term damage to law and order, and national morality, result.

It was when Capt. Cash made reference to a statement uttered by Adelai Stevenson during Stevenson's political heyday, that brought back memories of some of his more infamous postures. One of these which irritate follows.

A number of years ago several major figures were advocating that people had a right to disobey laws they did not favor and Stevenson had said "criminal records will someday be an asset rather than a liability." The deceased politician's statement had the effect of putting a halo over the head of every lawbreaker in the land.

During the period when this absolutely ridiculous philosophy was being enunciated by Stevenson, another Washington butterfly was writing Stevenson's speeches. The man is the sometime college (Harvard) professor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.

There is no reason to believe that "the Schless" did not

Ambulance Bid Made

Members of the Soroptimists Club of Lemon Grove are laying groundwork for requesting citizens, and service clubs in this community to help them in obtaining an ambulance for the fire department.

Mrs. Victoria Cooper, president of the club is spearheading the plans. Her group plans to go to the various civic organizations and then to the fire department board of directors with the program.

A fire department spokesman indicated that they would be able to provide any service that the people in Lemon Grove want.

"It should be pointed out," he said, "that we will have to do one of two things to provide such service. The first thing, is that the fire rating will drop from its current rate of four.

"This will take place unless we hire a five man crew to handle the ambulance.

"The second point that should be made is that five additional men would be needed to man the ambulance. It would cost us roughly $8,000 in wages for each man for one year to provide the 24-hour service, without jeopardizing the fire rating."

Mrs. Cooper said that her group feel that the community should have better ambulance service in Lemon Grove. She also pointed out that her group would like the entire community to help in the project.

Ambulance units run from $7,000 upward to $16,000.

School Tax Override Questioned

Students End Year Friday

Friday will be the last day of school for 28 seniors at Mt. Miguel High School.

The students, 18 girls and 10 boys, will have completed their high school work and will move on to either college studies or go to work.

The 28 are graduating early because they took courses during the summers in order to accumulate credits quicker.

The students are: Sue Barton, Janice Bradbury, Kathy Brown, Brad Bygd, Anita Calderon, Debbie Cecil, Greg Davis, Jackie Gilbert, Rufino Gomez, Lynn Hammerschmidt, and Renda Hie.

Also Jan Isley, Judith Joyce, Tom Jones, James McDonald, Judy Kraft, George McCane, Gloria Newell, Eileen Nichols, Olga Nunez, Ann Oliverio, John Sadulski, Pat Stanley, Kathy Stoy, Carl Strong, Ron Thompson, Tom Lasher and Lynda White.

Grossmont Union High School District has held to this type of policy for more than 20 years. It is anticipated that in the future more students will graduate at mid-term.

Mrs. Vivian Owen, registrar at Mt. Miguel said that many of the students will go to Grossmont College where they can get started on college studies.

Area Friends Fete Anders, Astronaut

Nearly 350 friends and admirers of Lt. Col. William A. Anders, some of them neighbors and some of the schoolmates, greeted the famed astronaut Monday at a private luncheon at the Bronze Room in La Mesa.

Anders, and his wife, the pretty former Miss Valerie Hoard of Lemon Grove, easily won the heart of the overflow crowd with their easy-going, neighborly approach to the ceremony.

Anders asked his neighbors to stand and he introduced them. He did the same with his former schoolmates from his high school days at Grossmont. And he did it with a goodly number of aunts, uncles and in-laws there to greet him.

He was presented by his former high school tennis coach, Walter Barnett, who is now

IT WAS WET: Traffic on Broadway in Lemon Grove could have been better during the past week. As a matter of fact, even the ducks in "sunny" Southern Calif. had not seen as much rain in some time. Streets became pools of water as some 2.52 inches of rain fell here during the week. The seasonal total is currently ahead of last year's mark. It now stands at 8.66 inches while last year's mark of at 7.26 inches.

Mt. Miguel Students Await American Field Service Decision On Foreign Study

Waiting anxiously to hear whether or not they will be accepted as AFS exchange students are Mt. Miguel High School juniors Sandra Sjogren and Cheryl Mosteller.

Sandra and Cheryl are among 3400 semifinalists chosen throughout the nation whose names have been sent to New York where the final decision will be made in late spring.

Approximately 1000 will be announced as finalists. "These kids are the cream of the crop of the country," declared Mrs. Dwight Putnam, AFS area coordinator. "Only the very best are selected."

The first choice of both girls is placement in the Northern Hemisphere for the '69-'70 school year. Sandra's special choice is Scandinavia, due to her Norwegian background.

She applied for the program because it will give her the chance "to see another part of the world first hand and meet new things face to face. Studying abroad will bring me understanding to a personal level."

A highly commendable student, Sandra is active in Modern Dance Club, class activities, and Girls' Ensemble. She has never been on an extended visit away from home before.

Cheryl, also an excellent student, takes part in Gymnastics Club, church work, International Club, and a folk singing group which toured the U. S. two summers ago. She believes that teenagers can do something for international relationships through a program such as AFS by breaking "false stereotypes."

"I was inspired to try out by the Finnish girl in my art class last year," Cheryl explained. "I would like most to go to Yugoslavia."

Living behind the Iron Curtain would give me a real insight into Communism. I want to know the people, see how they live, not just travel as a tourist.

If more people could establish personal relationships, there would be a better chance for peace in the world."

The girls were screened, along with other interested students, by a committee consisting of Dwight Putnam, chairman of the American's Abroad Selection Committee and Virgil Duea, vice-principal, Charles Engberg, International Club advisor, Miss Ann Alderson, foreign language teacher, and Miss Kathy Dittamore, a Miguel graduate who went to Germany as an AFS student in 1963.

After the committee had made their decision, there were countless forms to make out and send to New York.

As much as possible is found out about applicants so that they can be placed with the most compatible families.

L.G. School District Eyes Fund Election

The possibility of an override election coupled with a bond issue occupied the attention of the Lemon Grove Elementary School District trustees Monday night.

The board had moved to the auditorium of the Golden Avenue school in order that class demonstrations of the Creative Arts Project under Title III could be demonstrated. Many local youngsters are involved in the classes.

When the board reconvened, it heard District Business Manager Paul Reynolds tell of a financial study he had made which suggested that more money would be needed for operation and construction.

Byron Netzeley, District Superintendent said that the District costs are $50 a year less than other California districts of comparable size. The combined high school and elementary district costs are $118 a child less, he said.

The deficiency comes from the state aid program he said. If additional funds are not forthcoming, it is almost certain that an override election will be called in October. "It is too late to combine the election with the trustees election

April 15, Netzeley said. According to Netzeley's figures, the $1.99 rate now in effect would be raised 60c to make good the $50 a year per student shortage. An increase of 90c would produce $75 a year a child.

The need for additional construction is being suggested by 165 new homes under construction in the district. "These homes give the district about 200 more pupils," Netzeley pointed out.

"If the building trend continues we will need 15 additional classrooms within five years," he said.

The question appears to be whether a bond issue will be called this year when the increased bonding capacity would be up three-fourths of a million dollars, or wait until the following year — or the one after that — when the capacity would have risen to one million dollars.

Netzeley reported on a suit against the State of California, filed by the District, in which an additional 25 per cent of the federal impact funds would be paid to the District.

The drive started late last year and almost one hundred families a week have been joining in. The drive will end next month.

Home of Guiding Hands was built by private funds and accommodates 130 children and adults today.

The proceeds of this drive will be used to landscape the Home.

Contributors are urged to visit the Home which is open to the public seven days a week. Those wishing to participate to a larger degree may do so by discussing the matter with Francis S. Bell, an

SIDEURNS TO JEANS

Students Favor Slight Revisions In Dress Code At Monte Vista High

A majority of Monte Vista students favor a "little revision" in dress regulations according to replies given in a recently circulated Student Body questionnaire.

Forty-nine per cent of the girls and 64 per cent of the boys voted for a little revision, while 28 per cent of the boys and 16 per cent of the girls wanted a lot of revision.

Only 13 per cent of the boys and 16 per cent of the girls said that they felt that the rules are adequate.

The questionnaire was divided into sections for boys' dress and girls' dress. Questions were based on regulations currently being enforced.

Almost half of the boys and nearly three-fourths of the girls voted approval of the rule which requires boys to wear shirts tucked in, while 62 per cent of the boys and 67 per cent of the girls felt that the regulations should be relaxed to allow boys to wear bermudas.

Nearly all students said that they felt that jeans are acceptable school dress and 77 per cent of the boys and 61 per cent of the girls thought that jeans are also acceptable for dances.

While almost all students approved of sideburns on boys, and 79 per cent of the boys and 63 per cent of the girls approved of mustaches, only 40 per cent of the boys and 26 per cent of the girls thought that beards should be permitted on campus. On most of the questionnaires, boys and girls voted for relaxed rules for members of their own sex.

Flooding Ills Keep Firemen On Top Alert

Besides helping local residents with their flooding problems, due to the heavy rains, the Lemon Grove Fire Department answered two fire calls and one rescue call, all during the week of Jan. 20-27.

A car belonging to Myron Brodzinski of 443 Broadview, Spring Valley, was parked in the Food Basket parking lot on Jan. 24. A flooded carburator caused a fire under the car's hood, which amounted to a $50 loss to the owner.

Faulty electric wiring at the Grove Motel, 8002 Broadview, caused an undetermined loss by fire and smoke on Jan. 26. The fire is under investigation.

On Jan. 25 rescue workers of the Fire Department answered a call to 7615 Mt. Vernon, Frank W. Kygar was administered oxygen and taken to Grossmont Hospital. He was later pronounced dead.

He had deposited his ten cents, the suit said, when the metal ceiling, frame, overhead light or metal cover fell or collapsed on his head.

Manu, his attorney said, was found unconscious in the booth by passersby.

The suit claims that the injured man received a fractured skull and a brain concussion. Severe permanent injuries could result, according to the suit, along with severe and excruciating pain.

Manu asked for leave to amend the claim in the suit if the latter conditions happen.

The suit is against the telephone company and also against the company's maintenance contractor, named only as John Doe I.

Attendance Secretary Sees Growing Sport At Monte Vista

What seems to be a growing sport, much to the amusement of Mrs. Beverly Benfante, attendance secretary at Monte Vista High School, is the humor displayed by students who are tardy to class.

The "fairy tales" range in size from the one-line quickies to ones that fill both sides of the green tardy slips that late students must fill out.

Although most excuses are the tried-and-true type such as "Bus was late," "The bus was early," "Alarm didn't go off," "Missed bus and had to walk," there are some that branch off from this type of conformity.

They include sly ones such as "I walk slow," and "My shoe strap broke," to the totally ridiculous variety.

Some of the more interesting ones include: "I was reading some people's palms at lunch and we didn't hear the bell ring," and "I was dying from tonsillitis until a new miracle drug saved me — but not fast enough to make it to school on time."

A few more are: "There were a lot of girls in the bathroom," "I was attacked by a band of wild Indians," "The world ended," "Had to wash my shoes in the bathroom," "I was attacked by an 8'4", 7,000 pound gorilla."

Another sincere gem: "I wasn't going to come to school today because I didn't feel well, but I couldn't stand being away from school so I came anyway."

These few samplings were taken at random from Mrs. Benfante's slip file which ranged from Dec. 17, 1968, to Jan. 8, 1969 — all that in only five school days!

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

In the year 1602, some sixty years after the Cabrillo landing at Point Loma, Sebastian Vizcaino entered the adjoining beautiful bay and called it the Bahia de San Diego. It has been suggested that Vizcaino ignored the name, San Miguel, which had been given to the same area by Cabrillo.

It may well be that Vizcaino was more aware of the historical importance that would be given to an explorer who assigned names to the kings maps.

Some writers attribute the name of San Diego to one of Vizcaino's boats by the same name. Other writers attribute the name of San Diego to the saint's day. After all, Vizcaino and his crew celebrated their first religious service on Saint San Diego's day, only two days after their arrival.

It could also be that the name of the boat, San Diego, and the Saint San Diego's day mass celebration combined to impress the name in Vizcaino's mind for Alta California's first beautiful bay.

The most difficult question still remains unanswered: Why didn't the name San Miguel (given to the area by Cabrillo) continue to be used? For one reason, Vizcaino's maps of the area which reflected the name of San Diego were hung on the king's hall of maps too long.

Some practice phrases that relate to Vizcaino's time are listed below. See if you can learn to say them with the help of the recorded voice on 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Vizcaino nombro San Diego" (veeskah-EE-noh no h-m-BROH sahn-dee-EH-goh) for "Vizcaino named San Diego."

Say "Era un comerciante." (EH-rah oon koh-mehr-see-AHN-teh) for "He was a merchant."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "El buscaba perlas." (ehl boos-KAH-bah PEHR-lahs) for "He searched for pearls."

Say "Era muy valiente." (EH-rah MOO-ee vah-lee-EHN-teh) for "He was very brave."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Hizo muchos mapas." (EE-soh MOO-chohs MAH-pahs) for "He made many maps."

Say "Estudiaba la costa." (eh-stoo-dee-AH-bah la h-KOHS-tah) for "He studied the coast."

DMV Sets Feb. 4 Deadline

All renewal notices for 1969 California motor vehicle and trailer registrations have been mailed out, announced Department of Motor Vehicles Director Verne Orr.

Reminding Californians that the deadline for obtaining 1969 license plate stickers is Feb. 4, he said two groups of people would be particularly well advised to wait no longer before taking action:

"First, those who haven't received a renewal notice for a vehicle they own. They should take last year's card to the nearest DMV office and tell the clerk that they haven't received a 1969 card.

"Second, those who have brought a vehicle to California from out-of-state. Some of these people will have difficulty proving ownership, value, or date of purchase of the vehicle.

They may even have to write to the place where they got the vehicle for documents they don't have."

Orr reminded California motorists that many banks are offering counter space for registration renewal as a public service, but only submission of the fee shown on the punched renewal card in exchange for a sticker can be accomplished there.

Special problems should be brought to local DMV offices or to auto clubs by club members.

THE FIRST 50 — Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. "Andy" Anderson mark their Golden Anniversary in the convalescent hospital in

Anniversary Marked In Hospital For Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson

They wouldn't have deliberately chosen a hospital for the locale of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary — but it was a joyous event for all of that.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. "Andy" Anderson, of 3217 Buena Vista ave., Lemon Grove, both hospitalized, cut an "anniversary" cake for nearly 50 visitors last week at the San Diego Convalescent Hospital.

Andy has been there for 22 months recuperating from surgery. Elizabeth has been there three weeks, the result of a broken leg.

The pair were married in San Diego on Jan. 22, 1919 where they met at a military ball at the U. S. Grant hotel. Andy had finished his service with the Marine Corps and Elizabeth's family had moved from Lemon Grove to the city a few months earlier.

Andy, who was one of the county's first pilots, was seeking a business venture. The trail led him to Lemon Grove where he found a blacksmith shop for sale at Imperial and North streets. He converted it to a garage which allowed him to continue his interest in aviation — and his garage business was successful. During this period he and Elizabeth were married and they established their home in Lemon Grove. He became active in the Rotary club, and she in the Forward club, forerunner of the Woman's club.

When the couple took up residence in Lemon Grove there was little more to the community than a few houses, Sonika Brothers store, the library, the woman's clubhouse, a church, a school, and a couple of packing houses, he said.

The couple have two sons, Arnold and Wayne, who live on the East Coast.

Andy and Elizabeth are looking forward to returning home and taking up community activities again with almost the same eagerness they had when they were married at St. Paul's Episcopal church in San Diego on Jan. 22, 1919.

Helix Kicks Off Second Part Of Hoop Season

By TOM WARREN
Helix Sports Correspondent

Helix High will kick off the second round of the Grossmont League basketball season tomorrow night, when they meet Grossmont in the Foot-hiller gym as the top leading team in the league.

In their first meeting, earlier this month, the Highlanders smashed the Hillers 94-62. In that game Scot forward Dave Unroe scored 22 points, in one of his finest games of the season, and center Bill Walton tallied 15, as the Scots sank over 50 percent of their shots in each quarter.

Walton also turned in an impressive defensive game in the encounter, holding Grossmont center Dale Penneck to a mere four points.

A strong point for the Hillers tomorrow should be guard Wayne Larson, who turned in an outstanding performance in the last meeting of the two teams.

He scored 14 points, including 8-9 at the foul line, in that tilt.

Another prominent figure in the Grossmont scoring attack is senior forward George Menzies. Menzies is the third leading scorer in the Grossmont League, (behind Tim Doerr of Granite Hills and Ken Barstow of Mt. Miguel) with a 16.1 per game average, a total he reached in the previous game with the Highlanders.

To counter the scoring of Larson and Menzies Helix will send three of the top ten leading scorers in the league into action. Leading the Highland trio is Unroe, who is the fifth leading scorer in the league with a 14.5 average.

Directly behind him is Bruce Menser, (sixth) with a 13.9 per game average, and Bill Walton, averaging 12.8 per try.

POWERFUL OFFENSE

The Highland hoophoops demonstrated a powerful offense and a devastating defense last Friday night as they routed Granite Hills, 96-55.

Leading the Scot offense in the barrage were Menser, who sank six field goals and four free throws for 16 points. Unroe, who canned 15, and Bill Walton, who popped in 15 also.

Probably more significant than the offensive game, however, was the defensive show turned in by the Helix starting five.

The team of Mike Dupree, Bruce Walton, Bill Walton,

Menser and Unroe held the Eagles to only three points in the second quarter with those coming only in the final 19 seconds of the first half.

A key factor in this display of defensive strength was the tremendous height advantage enjoyed by the Highlanders. Granite Hills sports only one man over 6-1, whereas the Highlanders have six men toppling that figure.

The height factor enabled the Scots (led by 6-9 center Bill Walton and his 6-5, 250-pound brother Bruce) to dominate the boards and force the Eagles to take the outside shot.

It also gave them (in most cases) only a single chance at the basket, which reflected in their scoring.

Well worth mentioning is the Scot bench, which Helix coach Gordon Nash relies heavily on to give his starters a rest.

Sparked by the ten point performance of sophomore Dan Coleman, the Highlander back-up men accounted for 31 of the 96 Scot points.

Next Tuesday the basketballers will seek revenge, as they meet Monte Vista on the Helix court.

In their first meeting, the Monarchs handed Helix their first and only defeat against a county team this year, 58-52.

Since then, however, the Scots have averaged 90.5 points per game, and, aided by the home court advantage, it should be a different story this time.

Monte Vista Looks For Mt. Miguel Upset

By SCOTT MCGAUGH
Monte Vista Sports Writer

The Monte Vista High School basketball squad split their two games last week by beating El Cajon in overtime, 63-60, and then losing to Santana, 61-51.

In a Tuesday afternoon battle, the Monarchs had to battle back from as much as 16 down before beating the El Cajon Braves in overtime, 63-60.

After being down by 12 at the half, the Monarchs caught El Cajon with 1:01 remaining in the third quarter, 41-41. The Monarchs led 43-42 at the end of the third period.

The lead changed hands several times in the fourth quarter until the Braves took the lead at 57-55.

With 20 seconds left, Bill Belander hit a 12-foot jumper to tie the score and send the game into overtime.

Bill Belander was the leading scorer with 21 points. Roger Sommers followed with his season high of 18.

Monte Vista then traveled to Santana only to lose to the Sultans, 61-51, as the Monarchs' offense never materialized.

The Monarchs fell behind by seven at the end of the first quarter only to come back to tie the score at the half, 27-27.

The Sultans outscored the Monarchs by eight in the third quarter and by two more in the final period to win easily.

Leading scorers for the Monarchy were Bill Belander and Jim Bristol with just 14 and 12 points respectively.

Mt. Miguel will come to Monte Vista this Friday for a rematch in the Monarch gym at 8 p.m. Monte Vista nearly upset the Matadors earlier in the year.

Matadors Fall To Helix, 60-48 As They Bounce Into 2nd Place

By JOHN NICHOLSON
Mt. Miguel Sports Writer

Mt. Miguel bounced out of a first place tie with Helix High School Tuesday night as the Highlanders soured them 60-48. It was the second loss of the season for the Matadors.

Helix is still in a tie for first place with Grossmont High. Both schools have identical 6-1 league marks, and 18-2 slates for overall play.

Grossmont eased by El Cajon 85-48 Tuesday night in their league game to stay in contention for the league crown.

In the victory over the Matadors, Helix put the strong Bill Walton into action, scoring 21 points for the winners. Bruce Menser was just behind him with 15.

Walton, a junior, at center picked off 33 rebounds in the game to set a new Helix High School record. At half time Helix was out in front by three points.

The big edge came in the last score when the Highlanders scored 19 points to the Matador's 11.

Top gun for Mt. Miguel was John Woodward, scoring 15. Behind him was Charlie Gredd with 13 points.

MATADORS FIRST LOSS

Mt. Miguel blew a 30-25 halftime lead last Friday night to drop into a first place tie in the Grossmont League. Sharing the top spot then with Mt. Miguel were Grossmont and Helix.

Grossmont High put together a great third quarter attack to overcome the five-point disadvantage when they outscored Miguel 22-11 in the period.

In the last eight minutes, they continued the rampage, hitting for 20 tallies while holding Mt. Miguel to 14. The loss was the first of the loop season for the Matadors, and Grossmont has the same 5-1 mark as Miguel.

Mt. Miguel takes on Monte Vista tomorrow night at Monte Vista, and will entertain El Capitan next Tuesday.

MATADOR NOTES:

Ken Barstow, injured in a game with Granite Hills last week, is bouncing back into the swing of things. . . . Craig Sandling fouled out of the game with Grossmont, and all told, the Matadors were caught in the act 16 times. Grossmont fouled 12 times. . . . Last Friday's loss ended Miguel's top win streak at 36, a mark that took three seasons to compile.

Practice Field To Get $11,000 Grass Blanket

The Grossmont Union High School District governing board has approved an $11,000 request for the installation of grass on the practice field at Monte Vista High School.

Work on the project is expected to be during the spring of 1969. It is expected to be completed during the summer.

The board also indicated its intention to turf practice field at Mt. Miguel, Helix and Granite Hills along with Monte Vista in order to properly maintain the playing fields at the schools.

Mt. Miguel's practice field had been given approval on Feb. 19, 1968 for the work. Helix was authorized on July 15, 1968 to do the work.

Funds for the work will come out of the 1969 budget.

Property Tax Refund Needs Special Focus

Some taxpayers are computing their State personal income tax liability and then deducting the $70 property tax refund recently established under the provisions of Proposition 1A, said Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

"This is a serious matter because we cannot allow that deduction and, by the time we locate the error and notify the taxpayer, it could well be too late for him to apply for his refund through his county assessor."

"The only way the property tax refund can be obtained is through the county assessor, not through deduction from an income tax liability," Huff stressed.

Monarch Wrestlers Go Undefeated By Dumping Santana High, 34-12

By SCOTT MCGAUGH

The Monte Vista High School wrestling squad remained undefeated as they eased by Santana High School, 34-12, on the winner's mats last Friday.

The Sultans of Santana opened by winning two of the first four matches to score 12 points. The Monarchs rallied to take six straight matches to cap the victory.

Three Monarchs pinned their men in the match. Larry Millard took a five point win in less than two minutes. Bob Skidmore and heavyweight John Tancil also were victorious by pinning their opponents.

Monte Vista is 4-0 in league play and will journey to Mt. Miguel Friday for a crucial match.

After beating Helix earlier in the year, Mt. Miguel is considered to be the final hurdle for the Monarchs in their title quest.

The Varsity will start at 8

Homemaking Students Stage Fashion Show

Forest Fantasy, traditional homemaking fashion show, was presented on Jan. 16 at Mt. Miguel High School.

Purpose of the fashion show was to give the girls in homemaking an opportunity to model clothes they had made in class. Outfits ranged from pajamas, pantsuits and coat dresses to formals and a wedding gown.

Master of ceremonies was Jimbo Stevens, a former graduate of Mt. Miguel. Escorts for the show were Mark Deesing and Barney Carpenter. Mark modeled clothes from Walker Scott where he is a Varsity Hi-Debber.

MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR PROJECT: The Sweetwater Springs Co., Inc. has outlined proposed construction on the Sweetwater Ranch property in Spring Valley. Phase 1, with construction costs estimated at $40 million, is shown in the upper right section of heavily outlined area. Construction should get underway in June, 1969. Phase 2, below the junior high school site will be developed within four years from now. It is expected to cost owners $100 million in that phase of their plans. A golf course along with mountain view homes will dot the hills facing Sweetwater Lake.

Multi-Million Project Planned

water Ranch is that the property surrounds Monte Vista High School on three sides, and is adjacent to the Highlands Elementary school.

The master plan completely surrounds a junior high school site belonging to the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district.

DISTINCT ATMOSPHERE

The land developer also said that the resort type commercial and medium high density residential area will add to the community a distinct high quality atmosphere not available elsewhere so close to the heart of San Diego.

The total site, owned by the Sweetwater Springs Co., Inc., is only 15 minutes in driving time from downtown San Diego. It is only ten miles from the downtown area.

Dahl, a president of the corporation, said that adopted Freeway Route 54 will parallel existing Jamacha rd., through a portion of the property.

Austin rd. would be extended to a point that it would go through the center of the first part of the new site. It would eventually continue on through to Calavo.

Ivy rd., would also be included a proposed extension. It would go down in back of the first phase of the site, and wrap around to Sweetwater Spring blvd.

NATIONAL ATTRACTION

John M. Phelps, vice president of the developing firm said that the center of the property will be linked by a major freeway route from the South Bay areas of National City, Chula Vista and Imperial Beach to I Cajon and Highway 80 to the East.

Phelps said, "We believe that the economy in San Diego is on the threshold of a decade of total advancement."

With this in mind we hope to offer to Spring Valley a site that would be a national attraction."

Phelps said that the eastern portion of the 1,000 acre development abuts with the Sweetwater Lake area. The Sweetwater Lake has been designed as a future major county park by the board of supervisors.

The developers said that with this taken into consideration, they felt that they will provide a high quality residential area on the hills overlooking the future park to the south.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

The Spring Valley Community Council and the La Mesa Town Council passed a resolution on Wednesday, Jan. 22 in favor of the proposed construction site.

William H. Fitzpatrick, president of the council, said that community council leaders meet with the developers prior to passing their resolutions.

Fitzpatrick said, "We think that the plan will be developed into a major suburban community with controlled planning."

"It will be a well balanced community, with both high and low density homes available on attractive property."

"We are looking forward to the expansion of our cross section of people and home living in Spring Valley."

NO VACANCIES

At the time of a recent survey, no vacancies were found in apartment houses in the Spring Valley-Casa de Oro areas.

The new project would open new homes as well as increase the economy of the general area. Spring Valley will derive untold amounts in tax monies. And also in economic benefits.

"JUST RIGHT" SAYS DEVELOPER

Phelps pointed out that the Spring Valley area is just far enough way from the ocean to be out of the damp foggy coastal area, yet close enough to enjoy the benefits of the cool ocean breezes.

He said that with the elevation along with rolling, hilly topography create opportunities to develop the custom residential community with view homesites, overlooking lakes, ocean, city and mountains.

The project was started when the Arnold Dahl Company located in La Mesa investigated the needs of such a community in Spring Valley about three and a half years ago.

A research project, covering over a year of work in analyzing the economic and the total overall effects of the plan was made and kept up to date by the firm.

Some 154 acres of land had been purchased from F. J. Sansen, pioneer real estate developer. Another 37 acres was purchased from S. Kida.

write into Stevenson's speech the silly idea of the advantages of a criminal record because he was the father of many of Stevenson's wildly liberal speech emanations.

Schlesinger was later to become historian-in-residence at the White House during those memorable thousand days and nights. The Schlesinger had his finest hour in the Bay of Pigs crisis. It was he, in concert with Sen. Fulbright, Chester Bowles, Richard Goodwin and Dean Rusk and other "strategists," who howled that world opinion would be in criticism of us if we pursued our carefully worked out plans to smash Castro's air force so that invading anti-Communist Cubans could establish a beachhead.

The same kind of advice he gave Stevenson prevailed and you will never forget what happened. All of those patriotic Cubans who died in despair of betrayal will never know that it was not us — we freedom loving people — who pulled the plug. It was those who disseminated the wacky and woefully wrong philosophy of people like Adlai Stevenson and Arthur Schlesinger.
